

Job Title: Nutrition Advisor
Versailles, KY | Full-Time, Salaried

About the Role:

The Nutrition Advisor plays a critical role in the organization by providing a blend of customer service, technical advice, and sales. The Nutrition Advisor provides technical nutrition support to current and prospective customers, assisting them with product questions and providing advice about feeding management, ration evaluation, and supplement use. This person will back up the customer support specialist role and perform cross-functional duties as needed to deliver excellent customer service. The Nutrition Advisor will work with sales and marketing teams, providing support and contributing to customer retention and sales goals. The Nutrition Advisor may be involved in special projects and may attend trade shows and other industry events. Click here to view a full job description.

Email resume with cover letter to Becky Young, byoung@ker.com. Tell us about yourself and your experience. Some candidates will be asked to respond to scenarios similar to what they may encounter in this role.