

We're Hiring in Lexington!

New Vocations Racehorse Adoption Program is looking for an Assistant Trainer to join our team at our Lexington, KY facility! If you're passionate about Off-the-Track Thoroughbreds and want to play a hands-on role in helping them transition to their next careers, this could be the perfect opportunity.

As our Assistant Trainer, you'll help support the daily care, training, and placement of approximately 65 retired racehorses, working closely with our Facility Director and Trainer. From riding and evaluating horses to helping match them with adopters, you'll be part of the journey that gives these horses their next chapter.

Responsibilities include:

- Riding horses for training, evaluations, and promotional videos
- Presenting horses to potential adopters in-hand and under saddle
- Assisting with adoption coordination and adopter communication
- Creating photos, videos, and horse descriptions for marketing
- Supporting veterinary and farrier appointments
- Maintaining training notes and horse records
- Assisting with overall barn operations and team support

We're looking for someone who:

- Has extensive experience with Off-the-Track Thoroughbreds
- Is a confident rider with strong horse-handling skills
- Is organized, communicative, and great with people
- Thrives in a fast-paced, team-oriented environment

This is an incredible opportunity to make a direct impact on the retraining and rehoming of retired racehorses.

Location: Lexington, KY

Apply or learn more: <https://newvocations.org/careers>

Help us continue giving these horses the second careers they deserve.